SPECIALIST EYE CARE

Eye injections (also called intravitreal injections) are used to treat a number of potentially blinding eye conditions, including macular degeneration (wet), diabetic eye disease and vein blockages.

A regular, ongoing course of injections is usually required to preserve vision.

Unfortunately, around 26% of patients stop treatment after only six months, which may increase the risk of blindness.* This is often due to cost, inconvenience and difficulty in accessing appointments for treatment. At Vision Eye Institute Hurstville, access to eye injections has never been more affordable or accessible.

HOW THE CLINIC WORKS

- We welcome new patients and patients who are already receiving eye injections to treat a medical condition.
- Patient care is provided by our specialist ophthalmologists, supported by our highly trained clinical and admin teams.
- Appointments are available weekdays during clinic hours.
- A referral is required from an optometrist or GP for the initial consultation. Fees apply for initial consultations; however, a Medicare rebate is available with a current referral.
- Following the initial consultation, all subsequent injection appointments are capped at $100 per appointment. This includes the consultation, injections and any required scans.
